1. Warranty coverage by category

All warranties are manufacturer-backed and begin from the date of delivery. The exact warranty period for each product is listed in the product catalog; the table below gives the standard coverage by category.

Category	Standard warranty	What is covered
Electronics	12 months	Manufacturing defects, battery faults, internal hardware failure
Home appliances	12–24 months	Motor, heating element and electronic component defects
Accessories	3–6 months	Manufacturing defects only (cables, chargers, sleeves)
Lifestyle	0–6 months	Defects where stated; many items carry no warranty

2. How to claim a warranty

- Contact UrbanCart support with the order code and a description of the fault.
- Share the original invoice or order confirmation (any UrbanCart order record is accepted).
- Support verifies the product is within its warranty period from the delivery date.
- If eligible, the customer ships the item to the UrbanCart service centre, or a pickup is arranged for eligible cities.
- Repair or replacement is completed within 10–15 business days after the item is received and inspected.

3. What voids the warranty

- Physical damage, liquid damage, or damage from misuse, drops, or unauthorised repair.
- Removed, tampered, or unreadable serial number or warranty sticker.
- Normal wear-and-tear, cosmetic scratches, and consumable parts (e.g. batteries beyond 6 months).
- Use of non-approved accessories or chargers that cause the fault.

4. When information is unavailable

If a customer asks about warranty coverage for a case not described here, support must not guess. The query is escalated to a human agent who confirms coverage with the manufacturer before committing to any repair or replacement.
